Private collectors and invited VIP will rush for jewelry gifts for personal use.

Vietnam has been recognized as a middle-income nation and the number of high- and middle-income earners has increased rapidly. Vietnam's economic growth has been most prominent in the major urban centres such as Ho Chi Minh City, Hanoi, Binh Duong and even Can Tho where the middle and upper classes represent almost 50% of the urban population. A new generation of rich young people become more aware of and appreciative of luxury items, with a higher focus on quality and craftsmanship. Jewelry, luxury clothing and cosmetics shops have cropped up. Demand for wedding jewelry has been increasing significantly in recent years.
